

Your Encouragement

- Each person's passion differs and how they live it differs. But our task is the same - to discover what Passion, Power, Peace and Purpose means to us personally.
- The Four P's are like bread crumbs that we can use to point us to God.
- When we discover our Passion - it leads us to our Purpose.
- Be brave and ask yourself Mary's question, "What do you plan to do with your one wild and precious life?"

Your Empowerment

The progression is - when we ask the right questions, we'll discover our Passion. Then, because we will exercise our personal Power, we make space to blend our passion into our everyday life. When we do that, we feel a sense of Peace we've never felt before because we are living on purpose. No more feeling discontent and discouraged. We are living our life full of Purpose. The life God created us for.

Make a list of what stirs your spirit, breaks your heart, what you MUST do or feel your life is incomplete? Circle similar ones to reveal the theme. If this is a tough process, don't get discouraged. Ask God to clear the fog. After all, He's the one who planted them within you - and He's eager for you to discover your passion and use it.

The one word, theme, idea, or spark...is your Passion!

Good work Ladies!!!
